

Level	Reward Criteria during Lessons*	Reward Criteria outside Lessons	Kinds of Rewards
R4 OUTSTANDING	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Any typical R3 behaviour sustained over a period of several months, OR Outstanding effort, achievement in a subject or activity in school or out of school, examples: outstanding contribution to the Arts, Sciences, Humanities and Torah learning 100% or excellent attendance per term 		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Formal letter home = 4 Achievement points on SIMS Meeting with a member of the Leadership Team Phone call home by Senior Leaders Raffle draw for 100% or excellent attendance and punctuality (termly)
R5 EXCEPTIONAL	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Exceptional performance in a subject or activity in school or out of school. Bravery, courage, overcoming adversity. Significant dedication after-hours, over and above the norm 100% or excellent attendance throughout the year 		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Meeting with the Headteacher or Headteacher writing to a student= 5 points on SIMS

*including tutor group time, cover lessons and assemblies

Examples of rewards:

- First at lunch with a friend of your choice for a week; free meal deal; free healthy snack; meal at a kosher restaurant.
- Variety of stationary items such as colouring pencils, post it notes, highlighters, note books, set of watercolours, calculators etc.
- Music and sports items such as guitar capo, table tennis bat and ball, netball, football, rugby ball. Cinema tickets, Free game of bowling etc.
- Electronic items such as memory sticks, ear phone, electronic devices.
- Variety of vouchers and gift cards which can be used in local shops/ shopping centres or on the internet; raffle tickets.
- Mystery prize at the annual award ceremony when you get the highest number of achievement points.

Please note that the JFS Rewards Catalogue will be continually reviewed and as a result some achievement point values may change, extra items added in or items removed. For an up to date version of the Catalogue, students should check the JFS website.